

Kevin J. Kovarik

Senior Vice President, Co-Head of General Aviation and Rotary Wing Business Principal
Chicago Office

Kevin J. Kovarik, Senior Vice President, Co-Head of General Aviation and Rotary Wing Business Line Principal, United States Aircraft Insurance Group, (USAIG) joined the company in 2008. Kevin began his career in the Chicago office where his responsibilities included underwriting general aviation risks in the Midwest region of the United States. In 2010, Kevin was promoted to the position of Senior Underwriter and in 2015, named Assistant Vice President and Business Line Manager, rotary wing, where his additional responsibilities included the management of USAIG's book of rotary wing business. In 2017, Kevin was promoted to Vice President and in 2018, named Senior Vice President. In 2019, Kevin was promoted to Regional Supervisor, General Aviation Underwriting, as his responsibilities expanded in the regional oversight of USAIG's Chicago branch office.

In 2022, Kevin was promoted to Co-Head of General Aviation.

Prior to joining USAIG, Kevin was an underwriter at Global Aerospace and a broker at Wenk Aviation Insurance. Early on in his career, he was a charter dispatcher at Priester Aviation. Kevin is an active pilot and owner of a Cessna 182S. He is a member of the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association (AOPA), the Experimental Aircraft Association (EAA), President of the 3CK Lake in the Hills Pilots' Association and is a member of the Helicopter Association International (HAI) where he serves on their Safety Working Group. Kevin is also a member of HAI's Flight Operations Working Group and is Leader of HAI's Insurance Working Group. In 2021 Kevin was an NBAA Top 40 Under 40 Award Recipient. Kevin graduated from St. Norbert College (DePere, WI) with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Communication Media & Technology. He is a licensed aviation insurance broker since 2005.